Response to Amendment

The preliminary amendment filed September 05, 2003 is acknowledged; claims 1-15 are presently pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by JP-2003 292039 (IRIKURA, KO ET AL).

JP 2003-292039 (Irikura, Ko et al) discloses an antibacterial polymer and its producing method and antibacterial polymer coating film and its making method and an article applied with the antibacterial polymer coating film. The antibacterial polymer is comprised of a polyimide, a polyamide, a polyurea, or a polyazomethine which is a product of a deposition polymerization reaction of a diaminobenzoic acid monomer or a halogen element-containing diamine monomer and a monomer which can react with the former monomers. The producing a method of the antibacterial polymer comprising a vapor deposition polymerization of a gas obtained by vaporizing the diaminobenzoic acid monomer or the halogen element-containing diamine monomer and a gas obtained by vaporizing the monomer which can react with the former monomers on the surface of the article to be deposited by vacuum; which anticipates the claimed invention. See English language abstract.

Applicant cannot rely upon the foreign priority papers to overcome this rejection because a translation of said papers has not been made of record in accordance with 37 CFR 1.55. See MPEP § 201.15.
